

Head of Department – Haematology

- Exciting senior leadership opportunity
- Modern medical laboratory

As the result of an internal promotion, we are seeking a Head of Haematology to join our innovative central Wellington laboratory. As Head of Department, you will be responsible for the overall running and performance of the Haematology department.

We are a forward-thinking company with high scientific and managerial standards. If you are seeking a challenging, career enhancing role in Haematology, look no further.

To be successful in this role, you will be a highly skilled registered medical laboratory scientist with extensive experience in Haematology, as well as a manager who works collaboratively to foster a positive team environment both within the department and across the wider organisation.

You will be able to demonstrate your experience in:

- Coaching and managing a team of technical staff to sustain a high standard of performance
- Identifying and delivering on opportunities to continuously improve internal systems, processes and services to customers
- Using your scientific knowledge to oversee and advance test methodology and equipment, and rigorously monitor quality control
- Managing department resources efficiently
- Working with laboratory information systems

At Aotea Pathology, we are proud of the work we do and the people we employ. If you would like to join the Aotea leadership team, please submit your application to Rosie Batt via email rbatt@apath.co.nz

All applications must be received by noon, Monday, March 1st 2010.

New Zealand Residents only please